Requests for information are covered by the Freedom of Information Act if they:

- Are made in writing (email or letter)
- include the name of the person making the request
- include an email or postal address for correspondence
- describe the information requested

We will respond to these requests within 20 working days.

Fees and charges

If specialist information or to provide data in a specific format is required there may be a charge however we will let you know if there's a cost before we give you any information

Information we can't provide

We are committed to openness. However, sometimes we won't be able to give you the information you ask for. These exemptions include:

- Information which is already accessible, for example through our website
- Personal data about people other than yourself.

If we're not able to supply you with the information you request, we'll write to you within 20 working days to let you know why.

Appeal a request

If you're not happy with how we handle your request or have not received the information you wanted you can request an internal review.

If you need to make an appeal you will need to contact our Board of Trustee.

If you need advice on dealing with a request, the Information Commissioner's Office can assist you. Its website is ico.org.uk, or it can be contacted on 0303 123 1113.
